Editorial

As we embark on another 365-day journey, RHK is truly grateful to share another year with our readers, fans, models, photographers, and everyone else who continues to support us.

2020 was filled with plenty of memories ... some good, some bad ... but memories nonetheless! The main takeaway from 2020, at least for me personally, was to count my blessings. Be grateful. Savor the moment. Breathe. Look for the positives in every situation. And hopefully I was able to convey that message to everyone I had an opportunity to work with. Even though we faced small obstacles and challenges, we had (and have) so much to be thankful for ... and a better day is always on the horizon!

With all of the challenges we faced in 2020, we were still able to continue our operations without interruption ... and had another great year! We released exclusive content every month, with over 25 all-new issues. We worked with new featured models, while some of our previously featured models returned with even hotter content!

All in all ... last year was a huge success!

In 2021, we hope to get back on our promo-tours, which give us the opportunity to meet and discover the world's hottest models. And, as always, our goal is to deliver the best magazines and products we possibly can ... our readers and fans deserve nothing but the best!

How to Take a Stress-Free Holiday Road Trip

Holiday travel can be stressful, but it should be fun, too. Advance planning and proper car care can take much of the stress out of a holiday road trip and leaving you free to enjoy the ride.

Checklists for each aspect of the trip will help ensure that nothing important is left behind, and that you are safe and prepared in case of an emergency. When it's time for a holiday road trip, keep these tips in mind for smooth travels:

Check your ride: A complete car check before a road trip should include making sure the fluid levels are sufficient. Make sure wiper blades and the wiper mechanism itself is working properly. Check your lights, including brights, to be sure they are functional. And, last but not least, don't forget your tires. Tires are the connection between your car and the road, so be sure to examine the tread for signs of excess wear.

"Traction and tread are inextricably linked. The grooves in your tires are critical in helping to channel water away to allow the tire to grip the road," says Sarah Robinson, Michelin safety expert. "Making sure you're driving on tires with proper tread can be the difference between avoiding an accident and becoming part of it."

Be prepared: Equip your car with an emergency kit, including water, flashlight, blanket, jumper cables, extra windshield wiper fluid, cell phone charger, and emergency phone numbers for roadside assistance, as well as a contact person at your destination.

Map your route: Check your route in advance and, if possible, plan your trip for times with less traffic. If you are planning to use a map feature on your phone, use the voice component; if you don't have that, consult a paper map and get a sense of the route before you get behind the wheel.

Safety first: That means the driver focuses on driving. If you are the driver and need to check your phone, send a message, have a snack, or tend to a child or pet in the back seat, wait for a rest stop, or if necessary, pull over to the side of the road.

Watch the weather: Especially during winter holidays, knowing the weather in advance can help you plan to avoid a storm. If conditions are truly dangerous, the smart move is to postpone your trip until the weather improves.

How long have you been modeling?
Over 3 years.

Who or what inspired you to start modeling? I had a friend who did some modeling and I got in touch with her photographer. It felt very empowering and boosted my confidence, so I knew I wanted to continue doing it.

How would you describe your modeling style? I primarily do sexy, yet classy, boudoir and art nudes ... but I dabble in other styles including fashion, cosplay, and body paint.

What is your most memorable moment as a model? I had a chance to do an upscale fashion shoot with wolves. That was definitely a memorable experience and one of my favorite shoots!

What are your modeling goals, short-term and long-term? Short-term goal is to make beautiful art that I'm proud of and to make a living off modeling gigs. Long-term goal is to be published in more widely known magazines and be a well-known model within the model/photographer community.

What is your sexiest feature?
Breasts and butt.

"It felt very empowering and boosted my confidence, so I knew I wanted to continue doing it ..."

Hey, I’m Steph Fallon, I've been modelling here and there for awhile now. I mainly shoot lingerie and swimwear … it suits me best. I'm a fun-size Barbie, standing at 5'0.

How long have you been modeling?
12 years

Who or what inspired you to start modeling?
My dad told me to apply to be a Sunshine Girl for the Toronto Sun [laughs] … so I did, and that was my very first shoot. I did it two more times after that also.

What is your most memorable moment as a model?
My most memorable moment as a model was getting to shoot for Playboy with Bruce Colero. I love being in front of the camera.

What are your modeling goals, short-term and long-term?
I just model for fun now really. I wanted Playboy and I got Playboy, so anything else is just a bonus.

What is your sexiest feature?
Ive got to go with the boobs [laughs]. I love big boobs!

TIPS

Don't Let Your Looks Blow Your Interview

The perfect resume means nothing if you can't sell yourself at a job interview. And most interviewers form an opinion before you shake their hand ... potential employers really do judge books by their covers.

So, how can you dress to get your foot in the door?

The most important element when dressing for a job interview is to evaluate your setting. Different offices enforce different dress codes -- an advertising agency, for example, might allow a little more personality than a government office. If the employer has an HR department, ask someone there about the company dress code. When in doubt, dress conservatively.

While you don't always need to wear a suit, keep in mind that you should dress for a position two levels higher than the one for which you are interviewing. If that means wearing a suit, choose a well-fitted, neatly-pressed suit in a dark, neutral color other than solid black.

Even if you opt for a more business-casual look, wear a collared shirt and a jacket. Make sure that all clothes fit well, are clean, and do not have loose threads or wrinkles.

And, although often overlooked, remember it's what is inside that counts. While your interviewer certainly shouldn't see them, it is important to choose the right kind of underwear. According to a recent Calvin Klein Underwear survey that polled 600 men and 400 women (available at survey.com), approximately 70 percent of those polled admit their undergarments are an extension of their personality. In addition, 80 percent say a good pair makes them feel more confident.

> "Whether you are wearing a crisp white shirt with slacks or a tailored suit, it's important to set your foundation with a stylish and comfortable set of underwear."
> - Jeannie Mai, celebrity stylist, host of Style Network's "How Do I Look" and "Extra" correspondent.

"Consider Calvin Klein's Classic Two Pack Boxer Briefs (www.cku.com). They are 100 percent cotton with a traditional fit, and are sexy, yet functional, with the signature logo waistband. Available in black and white, they can lend added confidence for your interview."

To add the final touches to your dressed-to-impress style, polish your shoes to demonstrate attention to detail. Cleanly groom your hair, and you'll show any respective employer that you mean business!

How Can More Sex Extend Your Life?

Today, many couples are experiencing what is known as the "sexless marriage," or a marriage in which a couple has sex only a few times each year.

But what many of these couples fail to realize is that they are missing out on the benefits that sex provides, not only for reasons of emotional intimacy, but also for its physical benefits.
Sexless marriages are neither normal nor inevitable.

Setting aside time for intimacy works for some couples, while others find help from all-natural sex aids, like Magic Power Coffee (magicpowercoffee.com) or Viagra.

But if you are looking for additional motivation in the bedroom, simply recall the benefits a healthy sex life can provide that will keep you feeling youthful, longer:

Weight Control. Sex can burn 84 calories in 30 minutes, while also improving heart and muscle strength, flexibility and muscle tone. Having regular sex can be used as a tool for couples who are looking to shed pounds or maintain a healthy weight.

Pain Relief. Before popping another aspirin, think about hopping into bed. Sex naturally releases endorphins and corticosteroids, which can help relieve pain from migraines, menstrual cramps and chronic back problems.

Better Sleep. Making love can help insomniacs fall asleep, and it's certainly more fun than counting sheep or keeping you partner awake as you toss and turn. Getting enough sleep carries its own health benefits, including healthy weight and blood pressure.

Stress Relief. Sex lowers both blood pressure and overall stress. In a study reported in the journal Biological Psychology, individuals who had intercourse performed better in high-stress situations like public speaking and verbal arithmetic.

Reduces prostate cancer risk. An Australian study, reported in the British Journal of Urology International, found that 20-something men who led healthy sex lives were less likely to develop prostate cancer later in life.

How long have you been modeling?
For about a year.

Who or what inspired you to start modeling? My family used to joke that I had the legs for it. I love how you can be anyone you want when you model. The very best version of yourself. I was always told to go after everything I wanted and to put my mind to it and I'd get it. This has always been a dream.

How would you describe your modeling style? Like to keep it fun, classy, and alluring.

What is your most memorable moment as a model? My first photo shoot ever. Made me come out of my shell and feel confident.

What are your modeling goals, short-term and long-term? To get over being my worst critic. I've come a long way and I need to be proud.

What is your sexiest feature? My eyes.

"My legs, my back,
and my smile are my sexiest features…"
